

One of the important remaining educational and methodological work is the activities of the Quality Assurance Committee (QAC) - an effective tool designed to carry out comprehensive monitoring and support of the educational policy of the department. The purpose of the QAC is to increase the effectiveness and efficiency of the educational process implemented at the Department of RLaC.

During the current academic year, 10 meetings of the Department's QAC were held, at which the issues of the Department's readiness for the new academic year were considered (resp. Kabanova A.B.), provision of educational and methodological documentation of the disciplines of the department and the results of open classes. Analysis of the compliance of examination materials with the program content, the degree of effectiveness of the organization of the educational process, the quality of all types of training sessions, including open classes and master classes (Shayakhmetova N.K.) and the results of mutual visits of teachers (resp. Utemuratova B.K.), the use of digital content in the classes of the RL and POrL bachelor's and master's degrees (resp. Dokuchaeva N.V.).

Within the framework of the QAC activities, a scientific and methodological seminar "Actual issues of the methodology of teaching the Russian language" functioned under the guidance of Ph.D. Kulpeisova T.S. The purpose of the seminar is to analyze the effectiveness of professional and methodological competencies of teachers, master the most rational teaching methods and techniques, familiarize teaching staff with new scientific and methodological developments in the field of educational technologies and their transformation into the educational process, exchange of experience between teachers; presentation of the achievements of scientists.

During the year, 8 meetings of the seminar were held, at which the reports of teachers were heard and discussed:

1. "Integration of mass open online courses at the university in the context of digitalization" (Dokuchaeva N.V.);
2. "The use of electronic teaching aids in Russian language classes at the Abylkas Saginov KSTU" (Nasyrova A.B.);
3. "The development of critical thinking in the training of RCTs" (Kabanova A.B.);
4. "The use of innovative technologies in teaching the Russian language to students of technical specialties" (Utemuratova B.K.);
5. "Role-playing as a method of teaching language disciplines" (S.A. Ivanova);
6. "Mixed technologies as a means of optimizing language education at the university" (D.B. Tleumbetova);
7. "The effectiveness of the use of support schemes in Russian language classes" (The planned meetings of the scientific and methodological seminar for the reporting period were held, the set goals and objectives were implemented.

Over the past period, the educational work of the department was carried out in accordance with the distributed and approved pedagogical load.

The department has funds for control tasks for intermediate and final control: exam tickets, border control materials, test tasks that are updated annually. Teaching materials are developed by leading teachers - professors, associate professors, discussed and approved at a meeting of the department and stored in a place specially designated for them.

Conducting open classes and master classes is one of the most important aspects of the educational and methodological work of the department, the purpose of which is to disseminate pedagogical experience, search for innovative ideas for a creative solution to the pedagogical problem, aimed at ensuring the quality of training of future specialists.
